

BOOK A BREWERY TOUR

What goes into making Fuller's ales taste so good? Just how much has brewing changed? How do we continue to thrive in an ever-changing world?

You'll discover the answers to these questions and the secrets of our success on a tour of the Griffin Brewery.

It's a unique opportunity to see behind the scenes of a world famous working brewery. Whether you're looking for history and heritage, an insight into ale-making or just some superb samples, you'll find them all here.

Led by a team of expert guides, we run up to 20 tours a week. We aim to answer all your questions and give you a fascinating glimpse into British beer-making history. The tour lasts around one and a half hours and culminates with the highlight: a tutored tasting of some of Fuller's finest ales.

£20 tasting tour (£18.52 + £1.48 booking fee)

ABOUT

The historic Borough Market is just a stone's throw from where we are now. This is where the barrow boys used to ply their trade, selling possibly much the same kind of produce that is still being sold there today.

Over many years we believe our team of chefs have perfected the British tradition of pie making. All our food is freshly prepared and cooked in our kitchen using the finest quality ingredients, locally sourced where possible.

The Barrow Boy & Banker was originally the first branch of the National Westminster Bank. You can still see many of the original features such as the large windows and double height ceiling. Beneath the bar is a labyrinth of existing bank vaults, which we now use to store and condition all our beer.

We are known as an Ale & Pie House, one of several similarly styled pubs owned by Fuller's. As the name suggests, we are famous for selling fantastic homemade pies and perfectly conditioned award-winning ales.

Our cask ales are brewed just 8.8 miles from here, at Fuller's Griffin Brewery in Chiswick, London.
